

Quarterly Indicators

Q2-2018

Housing markets across the nation are most assuredly active this summer, and buyer competition is manifesting itself into several quick sales above asking price. While the strength of the U.S. economy has helped purchase offers pile up, the Fed recently increased the federal funds rate by 0.25 percent, marking the second rate hike this year and seventh since late 2015. Although the 30-year mortgage rate did not increase, buyers often react by locking in at the current rate ahead of assumed higher rates later. When this happens, accelerated price increases are possible, causing further strain on affordability.

New Listings increased 1.9 percent to 66,234. Pending Sales were down 1.5 percent to 39,894. Inventory levels shrank 5.3 percent to 70,038 units.

Prices continued to gain traction. The Median Sales Price increased 11.0 percent to $266,500. Days on Market was down 9.4 percent to 77 days. Sellers were encouraged as Months Supply of Inventory was down 6.1 percent to 6.2 months.

Inventory may be persistently lower in year-over-year comparisons, and home prices are still more likely to rise than not, but sales and new listings may finish the summer on the upswing. The housing supply outlook in several markets is beginning to show an increase in new construction and a move by builders away from overstocked rental units to new developments for sale. These are encouraging signs in an already healthy marketplace.
